Australian National Field Days Site

Orange360.com.au

Australian National Field Days Site

The Australian National Field Days (ANFD) proudly offers a modern, multi-functional Education, Training and Conference Centre, purpose-built to host a wide range of events in a unique regional setting. Officially opened in 2021, the centre has been thoughtfully designed to accommodate conferences, workshops, training sessions, meetings, community events and private functions.

The facility is fully equipped with quality furnishings, carpeted flooring, and year-round comfort provided by heating and air conditioning. Large windows capture expansive rural views to the west, creating a relaxed and inspiring environment away from the distractions of city venues.

Event organisers have the flexibility to utilise the centre’s contemporary commercial kitchen or engage external catering providers, with the Central West region offering an outstanding selection of local food and hospitality options. The covered verandah provides an ideal space for networking, morning coffee or an afternoon refreshment while enjoying the surrounding landscape.

ANFD is licensed to operate a bar within the centre and is proud to showcase a selection of locally produced wines and beers, adding a distinctly regional touch to your event.

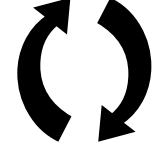

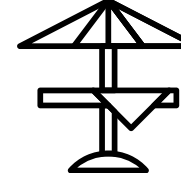

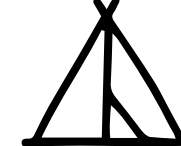

Beyond the centre itself, the expansive purpose-built Field Days site offers opportunities to incorporate additional activities, outdoor demonstrations or exhibitions, making it ideal for events seeking something beyond a traditional conference venue.

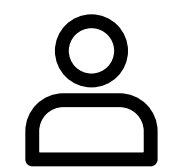

Convenient, flexible and set within a truly authentic rural setting, the ANFD Education, Training and Conference Centre delivers a professional venue with a unique sense of place."
